

Industry-leading services delivered now, with payment deferred later

As we continue to closely monitor the current global situation, CDI understands the challenges for many organizations trying to obtain budget approval for new products and services.

These are unsettling times for everyone as we adjust to the new normal, but we stand with you, and we're here to help.

Through CDI Cares, we're offering aggressive, billing deferral for all new professional and managed services under our product portfolio. You'll have access to industry-leading solutions to meet your business objectives now, with payment due later.
